AN INTRODUCTION TO THE WORLD OF PRIVATE CHARTER

Travelling by private aircraft offers many advantages, from greater flexibility and comfort on board, to avoiding check-in queues and lengthy security checks. Unlike commercial airline flights, private charters aren't bound by strict timetables or destinations, meaning that aircraft fly to your schedule to suit your itinerary.

WHY CHOOSE AIR CHARTER SERVICE?

With thousands of airlines on the market offering hundreds of aircraft types, finding the right combination of capability, capacity, comfort, availability and price can be a complex task, but with over 30 years of experience and up-to-the-minute market knowledge, we'll make finding your ideal aircraft effortless.

Our aviation consultants will take the time to understand your unique requirements and find out what's most important to you. We'll then seek out the solution which delivers the greatest value – something we don't measure only by price.

YOUR JOURNEY WITH AIR CHARTER SERVICE

TAILORED EVERY STEP OF THE WAY

Planning and booking private travel is quick and simple with us. As soon as you make an enquiry, you'll be assigned a personal account manager who'll take care of everything from start to finish.

We'll need a few details from you to get started, but you can leave all of the searching, planning and logistics to us.

As well as helping to book the trip, your personal account manager will be on hand 24/7 for last-minute requests and even advice en route.

You'll find more details in the following pages, but here's an overview of the steps we take to make every charter a success.

Input from you

Air Charter Service behind the scenes

1

UNDERSTANDING YOUR REQUIREMENTS

GETTING TO KNOW YOU

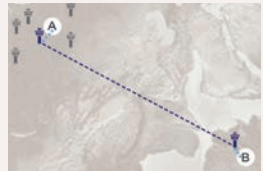

As soon as you get in touch, you'll be assigned a personal account manager. They'll start by running through the key details of the trip, from routes and dates to any special requests.

Once we understand the basics, you can tell us what's most important to you, whether it's speed or comfort, flexibility or budget, or a combination of several factors.

2

FINDING THE RIGHT SOLUTION FOR YOU

PLANNING THE ROUTE

Based on where the trip is from and to, we'll find convenient local airports and landing spots for the quickest possible journey.

VERY LIGHT JETS
LIGHT JETS AND SUPER LIGHT JETS
MID-SIZE JETS AND SUPER MID-SIZE JETS
HEAVY JETS
ULTRA-LONG-RANGE HEAVY JETS

IDENTIFYING AIRCRAFT

Next, we'll identify the aircraft best-suited to the trip, then check availability with a range of operators around the world.

YOUR QUOTATION

We'll then send you a shortlist of options which match your unique requirements, so that you can make an informed choice. If you need further advice, your account manager will be happy to help.

4 CONFIRMATION AND THE FINER DETAILS

ITINERARY

Before the flight, we'll send you a charter itinerary with all the key journey details, including flight times, departure terminal information and contact numbers for the crew.

FINISHING TOUCHES

As the day of the trip approaches, we'll look into the finer details and make suggestions for a few bespoke finishing touches.

From meals sourced from a favourite restaurant and preferred wines or whisky to cabin customisation, we'll do all we can to make the journey extra special.

3 YOUR BOOKING

CONFIRMATION

Once you've chosen an aircraft, we'll confirm availability with the operator and secure the booking so that the operational planning process can begin.

5 THE FLIGHT

MEET AND GREET

Your account manager will be on call every step of the way, but if travellers would like some guidance on the ground, we'll arrange a meet-and-greet service on departure, arrival or both.

REAL-TIME MONITORING

Once the flight's airborne, we'll monitor the journey in real time, liaising with our partners around the world to make sure everything runs smoothly and on schedule.

QUICK REACTIONS

Whether plans change, the weather closes in or passengers are simply stuck in traffic, we'll react quickly to minimise disruption.

6 YOUR POST-FLIGHT FEEDBACK

HOW WAS THE TRIP?

After the flight, all the times and details will be reported back to you, and you'll be asked to share your feedback. This helps us maintain our exceptionally high standards.

1 UNDERSTANDING YOUR REQUIREMENTS

GETTING TO KNOW YOU

To help us tailor your trip, it's worth thinking about a few key elements before you get in touch. Of course, if there's anything you're unsure of, your account manager will be happy to advise.

To make sure we find your ideal aircraft, we'll also discuss what's most important to you. That way, we can prioritise certain features and factors.

START POINT AND END DESTINATION

These could be anywhere from a city-centre office to a far-flung holiday home. Private aircraft can operate from a much wider range of airports and landing spots than scheduled flights, so we'll find the most convenient route.

DATES AND TIMES

If your schedule's fixed, we'll work around that, but a little flexibility can open up a wider range of aircraft options.

NUMBER OF PASSENGERS

This doesn't have to be set in stone at this stage, but we'll need an idea of how many people are travelling and how much space they'd like on board.

LUGGAGE REQUIREMENTS

Let us know whether there'll be any large or unusual luggage, or if passengers will be travelling light.

COMFORT

From three-course meals and fine Champagne to Wi-Fi and extra leg room, we'll discuss your onboard options and any special requests.

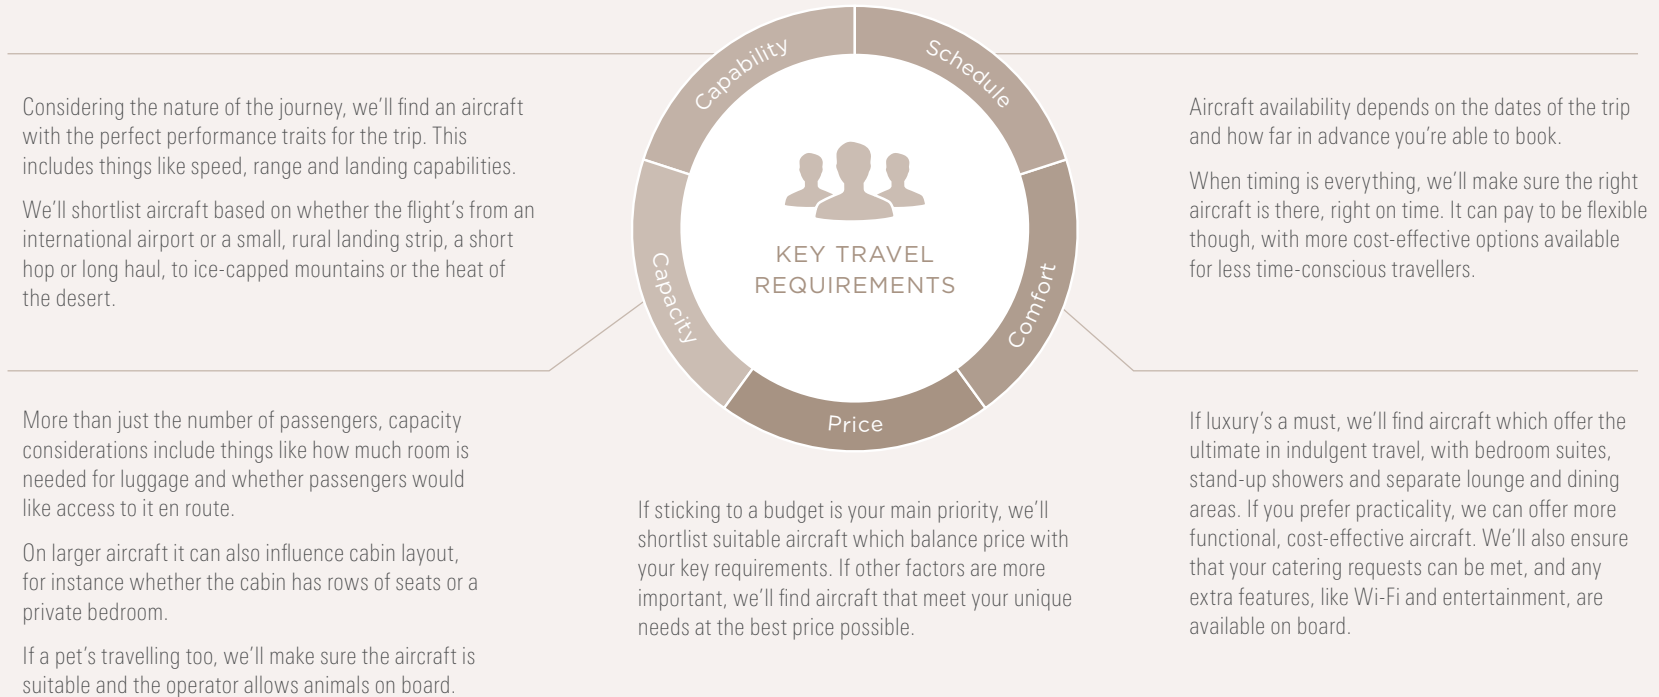

PETS

Are any four-legged friends travelling, too? If so, we'll find an aircraft to accommodate them as well.

BUDGET

If you have a particular budget in mind, let us know and we'll create a sensible shortlist of suitable aircraft. Otherwise, we can focus on your other key requirements and offer a range of options across a broader range of price brackets.

Once we know what you're looking for and where your priorities lie, we'll start tailoring our aircraft selection around five key requirements.

By taking the time now to understand your needs, we can ensure the experience meets – and exceeds – expectations.

2 FINDING THE RIGHT SOLUTION FOR YOU

To illustrate the process from start to finish, we've put together this sample booking for a family planning a week-long break.

This is just one example, but the same principles would apply whether you were booking a multi-city business trip with tight timeframes or taking the family off the beaten track on a South African safari.

EXAMPLE REQUEST

CAPABILITY

The family is planning a medium-haul trip, so needs a fast, mid-range aircraft. Landing capabilities will depend on the length of runways at airports we identify during the research phase.

COMFORT

Since they're flying medium-haul for just a week, comfort is a top priority. They'd like space to spread out and chat, play or sleep during the flight.

Comfort level

SCHEDULE

They'd like to get away for a week, but can be flexible within a range of dates.

PRICE

There's no flexibility on budget. They're happy to compromise on dates and airport options if it keeps the trip within their price range.

Price

CAPACITY

The family of four is travelling with their nanny and two pet dogs, and need plenty of space for luggage, which must be accessible in flight.

Passengers

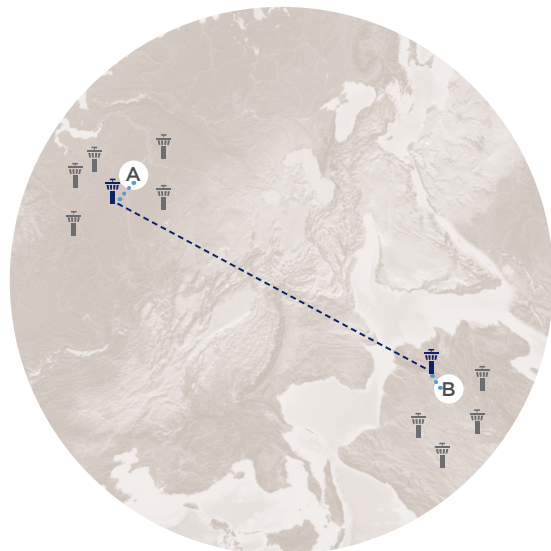

Baggage capacity

2 FINDING THE RIGHT SOLUTION FOR YOU

PLANNING THE ROUTE

- (A) Origin Ground transport Airport closest to origin and destination
 (B) Destination - - - Flight path Surrounding airports

ORIGIN

There are six airports within 40 minutes of the family's home. Two can't accommodate mid-size jets and none can handle ultra-long-range heavy jets.

DESTINATION

There are five airports within 45 minutes of their holiday villa, of which two are commercially operated and three are private.

For the quickest connection to their accommodation, we recommend the private airport which is next to a motorway. It's also open 24 hours a day, making it the most flexible option for scheduling.

Since they're travelling medium-haul, most smaller aircraft don't have the necessary range for this trip. Baggage and passenger capacity also narrow the options, with five people taking luggage for a week.

Finally, we can rule out ultra-long-range heavy jets, as they need longer runways than any of the airports we've identified have.

A mid-size, super mid-size or heavy jet will be best for this trip.

● Mid-size jet
 ● Super mid-size jet
 ● Heavy jet

Using our integrated brokerage operating system (iBOS), the family's personal account manager searches the globe for aircraft which match their requirements. As the family will be away for a week, a layover isn't an option, so operators close to both the origin and destination are considered.

21 suitable, conveniently located aircraft are identified, and the 10 operators are contacted to check availability. Since the family has a flexible schedule, where their first choice of dates isn't available, quotes are requested for others within a specific range.

EXAMPLE SOLUTION

SHORTLISTED AIRCRAFT

Based on the family's requirements and priorities, their account manager puts together a shortlist of the most suitable aircraft for the trip, outlining the reason why each aircraft has been selected. They'll then be on hand to discuss all the options and help make a final decision, with the aim of arranging a trip that exceeds all expectations.

	MID-SIZE JET Hawker 800	£ $
	A fast, comfortable jet that's capable of covering the distances required, this aircraft also comes in under budget. The cabin seats up to eight in a combination of club and divan seating; however, luggage space is limited.
	SUPER MID-SIZE JET Cessna Citation Sovereign	£££ $$$
	With a longer cabin and almost three times the luggage space of the Hawker – mostly in an inaccessible external hold – this jet also has a slightly higher cruising speed for a shorter flight time. Nine seats are arranged in club formation.
	HEAVY JET Bombardier Challenger 605	££££ $$$$
	Although this aircraft would normally be over budget, the operator is offering a significant discount which brings it within reach. This is because they'll be flying the route to reposition the plane, with or without passengers – what we call an 'empty leg'. The stand-up cabin's light and spacious, and seats are in club and divan configuration. There's also a galley for preparing food en route and onboard entertainment to keep the kids amused. There's lots of room for luggage.

RECOMMENDED AIRCRAFT

Combining long range and high speed with exceptional onboard comfort and lots of room for luggage, the Bombardier Challenger 605 is the ideal aircraft for the family. It would normally be out of budget, but we've managed to secure a big discount for this trip.

	HEAVY JET Bombardier Challenger 605	££££ $$$$

With a range of over 7,400 km and a top speed of 870 km/h, the Challenger 605 can quickly and easily cover the distances required. It's also capable of taking off and landing on the short runways of our chosen airports.
On board, the spacious stand-up cabin has 12 big, comfy seats, so there's plenty of room to stretch out, play with the kids or just catch up on some sleep. An onboard entertainment system and a galley for preparing hot and cold meals and drinks will help keep everyone happy en route and there's also a large, accessible baggage compartment, so the family can take everything on board.
The aircraft's available to fly them out and back on their first choice of dates. By travelling two hours later than originally planned, they can take advantage of an empty leg on the outbound journey and get a substantial discount.
This is the perfect opportunity to experience a really high-spec jet for a fraction of the normal cost.

PRIVATE AIRCRAFT AT A GLANCE

With over 150 private aircraft types available around the world, we offer an unrivalled choice of charters. These range from agile helicopters and cost-effective piston aircraft to executive airliners which are the last word in luxury.

Your account manager will use their in-depth knowledge to shortlist the best options for you, but here's a quick overview of our aircraft categories.

You'll find more detail in our dedicated private aircraft guide. Just ask your account manager for a copy.

HELICOPTERS

Helicopters are highly adaptable to a wide range of individual needs, from sightseeing trips and photography operations to medical evacuations.

Their speed and ability to land at helipads, hotels and even private properties allow for excellent connections and significantly shorter total journey times.

On board, cabins carry between four and 19 passengers and range from practical seating for short hops, to well-appointed spaces for working or unwinding.

PISTON AIRCRAFT

Piston-powered aircraft perform at altitudes below 15,000 feet and require less fuel to fly the same distance as turboprop aircraft, making them more cost-effective over shorter distances. However, they are significantly slower than their turboprop equivalents.

Piston aircraft are ideal as low-cost air taxis, often to remote locations, using shorter runways where jets would be unable to land. They're best suited to short-haul charters and business trips with small passenger loads, to areas with restricted or limited jet access.

TURBOPROPS

Turboprop aircraft, although not as cost-effective as piston aircraft, are generally larger, able to carry more passengers and typically fly higher, at altitudes of up to 35,000 feet. Turboprops have lower operating costs than jets because they burn less fuel and are also able to land on shorter runways, but journey times are longer over greater distances.

Whether you're travelling to major airports, smaller provincial hubs or short and underdeveloped airstrips, the versatility of these aircraft is why thousands of individuals, companies and governments choose them as their preferred method of air travel.

VERY LIGHT JETS

Very light jets (VLJs) are a recent addition to private aviation, providing a low-cost option for ultra-short-haul journeys in quiet, modern, compact cabins. These aircraft are ideal for flights of up to two hours and seat anywhere between four and eight passengers. The lack of a toilet in some jets should be a consideration for longer trips.

VLJs have lower operating costs than conventional private jets and can operate from runways as short as 3,000 feet, making them attractive for either personal or business use or as a point-to-point air taxi.

LIGHT JETS AND SUPER LIGHT JETS

More often than not, executive trips come in under the three-hour mark, and comfortable, cost-effective light jets are one of the most commonly used categories of aircraft for such journeys.

Much more efficient than larger jets over shorter distances, light jets are a reliable and convenient method of private travel, however they don't offer the space and luxurious surroundings of larger aircraft.

Super light jets are a step up from light jets, offering longer range, higher cruise speeds, better baggage capacity and enclosed lavatories on all aircraft.

MID-SIZE JETS AND SUPER MID-SIZE JETS

Capable of tackling many of the same missions more efficiently than the larger heavy jet market, mid-size jets offer impressive range, speed and comfort, coupled with lower operating costs than their bigger counterparts. Most are able to fly for up to six hours, with some offering intercontinental ranges.

Mid-size jets commonly feature full stand-up cabins, as well as ample luggage compartments, enclosed bathrooms and tabled seating.

Super mid-size jets can cover greater distances at higher speeds, with more room for luggage and a galley for preparing snacks.

HEAVY JETS

Spacious stand-up cabins, intercontinental ranges and high passenger capacities are some of the reasons why the heavy jet category is so sought after. They're also a practical option for those travelling with lots of luggage.

Delicate interior touches, fold-out beds and dedicated dining areas allow heavy jets to cater for a larger number of passengers in impressive surroundings.

Heavy jets connect continents with ease, with cruise speeds significantly higher than smaller, lighter jets.

ULTRA-LONG RANGE HEAVY JETS

Ultra-long-range heavy jets dominate the top echelon of the air charter market. Always the flagship aircraft of their respective manufacturers, they offer exceptional speed and power capabilities, with ultra-long ranges which can connect virtually any two cities in the world.

On board, meeting spaces and private suites, well-appointed galleys, entertainment systems and state-of-the-art connectivity allow passengers to make the most of every moment in flight.

EXECUTIVE AIRLINERS

Executive airliners are well and truly in a class of their own, catering for the most eminent of clients on intercontinental routes.

With onboard conference centres, lounge areas, private bedrooms with stand-up showers and high-spec galleys, both functionality and luxury meet the most demanding of expectations.

For added privacy, executive airliners often have corridors and completely separate rooms, meaning that passengers can work or rest uninterrupted.

3 YOUR BOOKING CONFIRMATION

Once you receive your shortlist, your account manager will be on hand if you'd like to discuss the options in more detail. When you've made your choice, they'll reconfirm availability and send you a booking request form to sign – either digitally or by hand.

The form will include all of the information you need, including aircraft details and an agreed schedule.

We'll then take payment so we can secure the aircraft, and the process of arranging slots and ground handling will begin.

Our service doesn't end there though. Your account manager will be available to answer questions and make last-minute changes, right up until the flight.

4 CONFIRMATION AND THE FINER DETAILS ITINERARY

When everything has been confirmed, we'll send a full charter itinerary showing airport addresses, aircraft registration, crew names and contact details, as well as information on handling agents. This is just for your information though, as your account manager will deal with all the logistics and any special requests on your behalf.

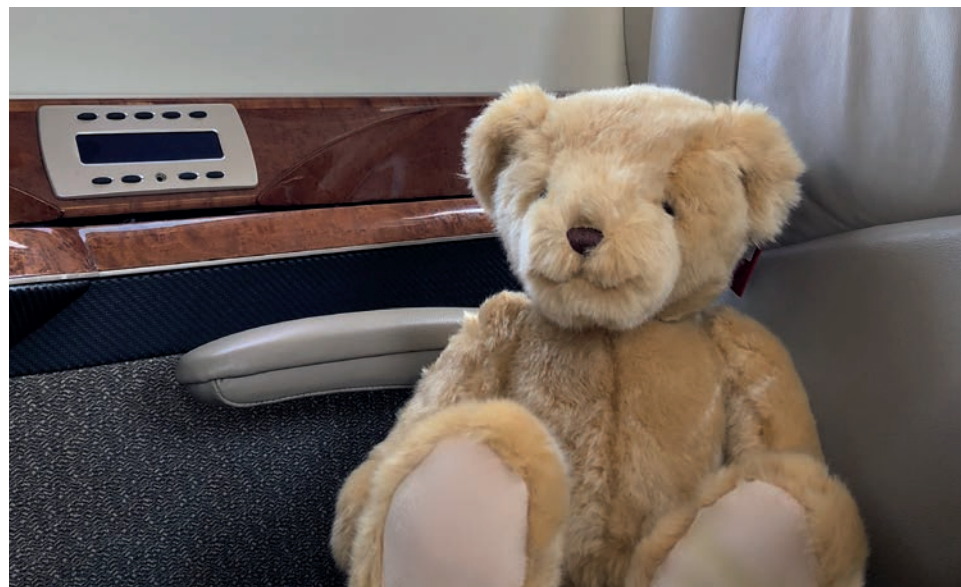

4 CONFIRMATION AND THE FINER DETAILS

FINISHING TOUCHES

Every one of our private aircraft charters can be tailored to the traveller, from bespoke catering and onboard entertainment through to cabin customisation.

Travellers can enjoy a meal from their favourite restaurant and toast their flight with the finest Champagne or just settle into a turned-down bed to enjoy an in-flight movie.

Just ask your personal account manager and we'll go the extra mile to make the journey special.

5 THE FLIGHT

As the date of departure approaches, your personal account manager will check all the details to ensure that everything is as it should be. They'll then be available throughout the journey to make sure that the trip runs smoothly.

MEET AND GREET

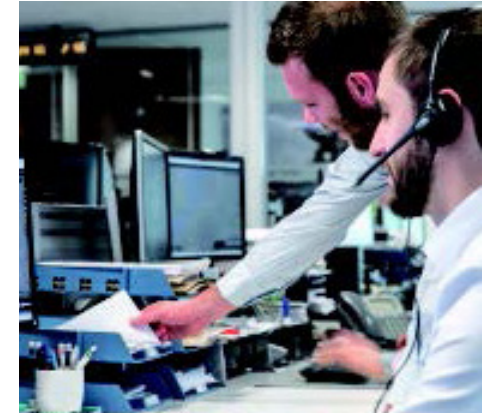

For extra reassurance at the airport, your account manager can arrange a meet-and-greet service. Available on departure, arrival or both, we can provide a friendly face to answer any questions and guide travellers through the terminal or to and from their ground transport.

REAL-TIME MONITORING

As soon as the flight takes off, your account manager will track it in real time and keep everyone up to speed on the ground to ensure a seamless arrival and onward journey.

QUICK REACTIONS

Plans change, meetings over-run and thunderstorms set in, but when the unexpected happens, our market-leading monitoring and proactive approach help us keep things moving. Your account manager will be available 24/7 during the trip to answer questions and make quick decisions to minimise disruption.

Team members from across the globe were drafted in to co-ordinate an unprecedented array of complex arrangements to make sure the tour ran smoothly from start to finish.

PET TRAVEL

TRAVELLING WITH FOUR-LEGGED FRIENDS

When it comes to travelling with a pet, chartering a private aircraft is a stress-free, comfortable option for both animal and owner.

Unlike commercial airlines, where pets are consigned to crates and kept in the hold, we work with experienced private operators who allow animals in the cabin with their owner.

Chartering also means less time at the airport, and private terminals are quieter and less stressful for both the passenger and their pet.

Once on board, pets can enjoy their favourite food, and we can even arrange treats and toys to help them relax en route.

Since each country has its own rules and regulations for pet travel, we work closely with agencies around the world to make it as simple and transparent as possible. Your personal account manager will be on hand throughout to guide you through the process.

With thousands of successful international emergency response charters behind us, we're prepared to act quickly and effectively to arrange suitable flights in the most complex of crises.

Whether it's assisting after a natural disaster, repatriating travellers from hostile or remote regions, or working around unusual weather events, we're available 24/7 to provide practical solutions for operations of all types and sizes.

Past missions include evacuating tourists after the 2004 tsunami, flying government officials home from Libya in 2011, and arranging a complex itinerary to return a group of senior executives to London in 2010, when a volcanic ash cloud closed European air space.
